

AIAS Freedom by Design Committee (as of Spring 2022)

---

Eliot Ball: Director

Eliot is a Masters student at UNC Charlotte and an Architectural Designer at Perkins Eastman. Ball has been involved with Freedom by Design for the past four years in various positions, but this year he comes to you as the director! He is a passionate and dedicated leader who is excited to bring FBD back to full effect.

Allen Tucker: Design Developer

Allen is a third year architecture student at UNC Charlotte serving this year as FBD's Design Developer. He grew up building things for fun (like LEGO sets) and knew architecture was his calling after visiting New York. He also loves music and dogs and is excited to be a part of Freedom By Design this year.

Kat Tyson: Secretary

Kat is a third-year architecture student at UNC Charlotte. She recently joined Freedom by Design in the hopes of bettering the Charlotte community and is currently acting as Secretary. She loves to play with her dogs, hang out with friends, and find varying places to eat around town.

Kennan Huskison: Treasurer

Kennan Huskison is a Second year architecture student at UNC Charlotte. This is his first year on the FBD board as Treasurer and his second year in Freedom by Design. He is a retired ski instructor, an occasional reader of books, and a fan of college basketball.

Jonathan Joles: Secretary

Jonathan Joles is a Third year architecture student at UNC Charlotte continuing on the board as this year's Project Manager. Jonathan has been involved with Freedom by Design for the past three years and with hopes of making this year the best one yet! He is an avid gamer, got recently into building keyboards and the one thing you need to look for to find him is his longboard.

Abena Atiemo: Historian

Abena is a third year architecture student at UNC Charlotte with a powerful design sense and is involved with many student organizations around the university. Abena has an interest in fashion and the community. She plans to bring FBD to a large-scale involvement with the city of Charlotte.